

"The most powerful words in the world are 'Tell me a story.' It's what you say when you go to church, when you stand in line for tickets, when you talk with your friend and ask, 'What are you going to do about that?' It's the same request: 'Tell me a story.' That's what we're doing for people if we're doing our job right at the newspaper. We're telling them the many stories that define our collective life."

Howard Weaver • Editor of the opinion pages.

"When you read the editorial pages, I'm not saying you'll know what to think, but you may know what to think about."
